

WINE PHILOSOPHY

OENOPHILE

/'i:nə(ʊ)fʌɪl/

noun: a connoisseur of wines

It is our great delight to introduce you to our resort's wine program, where our team has selected an array of wines from around the world to engage you in an enchanting journey.

The etymology of "Wine" is derived from "Vinum" in Latin. Vin in French, Vino in Italian, Wein in German, and Wine in English share the same root.

The European Union defines wine as "alcoholic beverage from fermented grape juice". If it is an alcoholic beverage from a fruit other than grape, the name of the specific fruit appears on the label. Generally speaking, a bottle of wine consists of 84% of water, 12% of alcohol (Alcohol by volume varies from 8% to 15% depends on the type of the wine) and 4% of other components, including vitamins, minerals, sugars, acids and phenolic compounds, and they play an important role of color, aromas, flavors, and texture of the wine.

We have crafted the wine menu keeping in mind the very discerning diners who not only enjoy tantalizing food, but also love to pair it with an exquisite wine.

Merci & À Votre Santé!

On non-availability of a particular vintage, a suitable alternative will be suggested.
We highly appreciate your generous understanding
